HOW TO OPERATE (Keith Robinson)

- * Enjoining a company.
- * When you are building a company you are building an engine.

A manager's output = The output of his organization
+ The output of the neighbouring organizations under his influence

- * You are mentoring only to progress.
- * In the initial stages, the company tends to feel like a mess.
- * You are fundamentally triaging.
- * Editing → Natural construct and the best metaphor for your job. Editors simplify and clarify things for others.
- * Think different and simplify every product.

2. Work things out and make sure that they work out and allows you to not distract from the day job.

3. Allocate Resources

- * measure yourself about the problems you are doing.

4. ENSURE CONSISTENT VOICE

5. DELEGATE

- * work on the task relevant maturity for delegating work:
- Low ← High
- Highly structured what, when, how
- High monitor and set objectives

* Your management style needs to work through the employee.

*

Level of constriction	High	?	Step in. Decide override
	Low	Delegate fully	?
		Low	High.

Consequences of Decision

* Explain your thinking, the why?

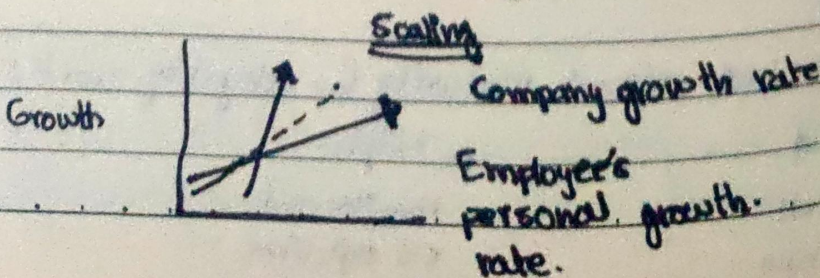

* Don't have catastrophic experiences.

Learning how to filter the future ideas

* A barrel is something that actually starts with a small set of responsibilities and then increases the responsibilities.

* Promote the barrels, if you see that they are doing a good job.

Q. When do you hire somebody above somebody?

- * Every company and a person, has its own growth rate.
- * Always track the individual's growth and the company's focus and make sure that it is different from others.

Insist on Focus

- * You will be less stringent on creating the policies.
- * Ask your employees to focus at one particular problem at a time.

Metrics & Transparency

- * Build a dashboard drafted and it should be used.
- * Dashboard needs to be as intuitive.
- * Transparency is something that everyone tries to adhere to.
 - ↳ Create notes for every meeting and send them to the employees.
 - ↳ Glass walls for the conferencerooms.

Gathering and Simplifying Information

- Goal:- predict output to enable you to adjust.
- Should measure output, not activity.
- Pairing indicators & measure effect and countereffect
 - Release Criteria vs ship date
 - Number of hires vs quality of hires
 - Loss rate vs false positive rate.

- * You want to look after the anomalies.

* Looking themselves in the mirror often. that made them feel good.

Details Matter:

- * If you get all the details right, you don't worry about the other things.
- * Taught the receptionist how to answer the phone.
- * work on the exact same standard of performance.
- * circuit design and the detail and obsession.
- * Give them the tools that they want.
- * what is going to be the office culture.
