

LECTURE: #11

Date

HIRING AND CULTURE (Patrick and John Callison, Ben Silbermann)

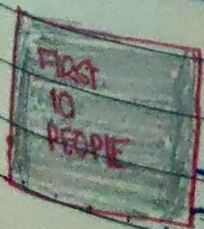

- 1) General thought about the culture.
- 2) Building up the early companies.
- 3) How does the culture evolve as you scale your business?

Core Pieces of Culture

- ① who do we hire and what those people value.
- ② what do we do everyday and why do we do it.
- ③ what do we communicate.
- ④ what do we choose to celebrate.
- ⑤ transparency internally.
- ⑥ Everyone needs to belief in the mission.
- ⑦ You could be involved in every decision and culture helps to maintain the insurance.

Pinterest

- * Look for people you work with and enjoy working with them.
- * Creative people and were always curious, quirkiness.
- * Look for people that just really wanted to build something great.
- * No one's really worked without money.
- * Talking with people who know and work on something, they all had in common.
- * You should look for more people who still haven't been discovered.

- People that are genuine and straight.
- Cared a lot about great details/ tiny details
- Genuine people.

- * Have a great elevator pitch.
- * major shift in the fine horizon.

Q How as a relatively inexperienced founder you find the people who are really great?

- * You owe it to the company.
- * Some sense of what makes them good at their job.
- * De Facto and the characteristics.
- * Precalibration of that really matters.
- * Good indicators / Bad indicators of quality.
- * Don't white wash the risks.
- * Confidence to interview in the way that works for you.
- * Is this person best out of all of his friends at whatever he does.
- * The macro narrative.
- * Referencing people for honest opinions really matter.
- * Useful overtime by creating artificial scarcity.

Do How to make the new recruits effective quickly?

- * Hiring because you needed people.
- * Building a relationship and told them about the bigger plans.
- * Constantly refine the interview process.
- * The lesson: A shouldn't be hiring anymore.
- * People who, what kind of persons demonstrate that you really care about them.

* Feedback on how to adapt to the culture.

* High level to minor cultural pointers.

* Goal transitions.

* Different units and want them to be soft contained.

* Referrals become more and more common.

* Aubrey of under managing growth.

CHANGES TO THE HIRING PROCESS AND HOW YOU MANAGE TEAMS

→ make the team as feel autonomous

→ Each team control the resources and how they are managed.

Human structure on the time provisions.

* make investments for long term.

* Build good social bonds between the people.

* How much human interaction happens over time.

couldn't do the things in a large environment

SPIN UPS

* 30 minute talk on what the team leader looking and how to contribute towards that team.

* The early hires do become good at those leadership roles and it's about damaging the company.

* Crazy enough to give you a challenge that no one else would be able to give you.

* Different variations and try to give many people a shot with whatever do.

Changing Visions:

- * Solutions to the problems using the amount of information/data.
- * Gap is widened even farther.

* Enjoyment and pleasure before the creation of the certain thing